

bsas
british society of animal science

bsas 2022
The role of animals
in human and planetary health

Equine Symposium

Abstract Submission

Equine Symposium

BSAS Conference 2022

The Symposium organising committee welcomes abstract submissions for oral or poster presentations for this year's conference. Many different types of research covering a range of topics are welcome – including equine health and disease management, behaviour, genetics, exercise, physiology and rehabilitation, nutrition and forage management, reproduction, and assisted therapies.

Showcase your equine research to a global audience.

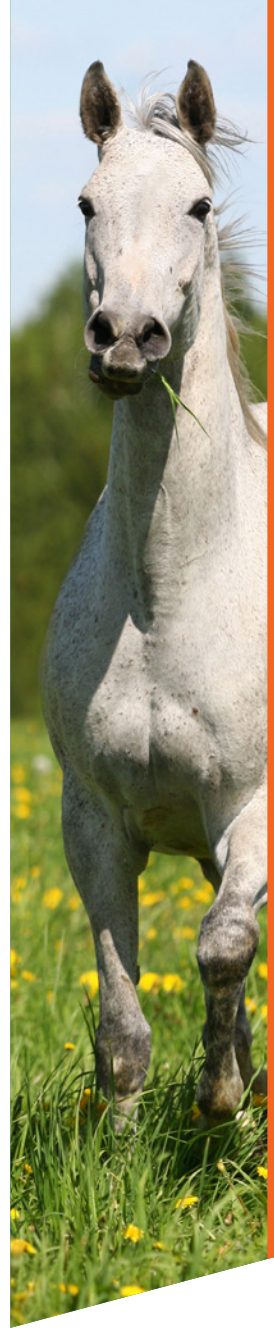

- Panel discussions of hot topics and issues with leading equine scientists
- Exciting keynote speakers address the role of animals in human and planetary health in an equine context.
- Poster presenters will have the opportunity to present a 1-minute recorded summary of their research.

If your interest is in the field of equine in an animal science, management or care environment, this symposium is for you.

SUBMIT YOUR ABSTRACT HERE

For further information contact:

bsas@bsas.org.uk

View our website